Cornell, Colgate and Pitt Claim Title---Virginia Ranked High---Mahan Stars

AINS TO FOOTBALL

Football results of yesterday greatly clarify the situation in East as regards a possible championship and establish title claims beyond question. Pittsburgh eliminated Washington and Jefferson, conqueror of Yale, in a manner that left no doubt for the dopesters, by 19 to 0. Princeton can no longer hope to contest the prestige of Cornell, for the Ithacans defeated Harvard by a larger score than Harvard beat the Tigers in their 10 to 6 battle yesterday.

Pitt and Cornell loom up as the two best elevens in the East. Pop Warner's charges have won every start this season. Dr. Al Sharpe's Cornell team is rated as the best eleven East of the Mississippi by many critics. Larry Bankhart's Colgate team is slightly in the ar for the claim and has yet to taste defeat.

SITUATION IN THE WEST.

tched closely. Dobie's team trounced ho by 40 to 0 yesterday, while the higan Aggies, which were conquered week before, jumped on the Mar-tie eleven for a 68 to 6 score. North-tern trounced the Missouri team by 6, while Chicago took Haskell into p by a 5 to 0 score.

Cornell won a slashing victory over the Commodores with a weak eleven. Michigan yesterday, making the fourth straight win over Yost's machine, white in another intersectional clash Notre Dame handed the Army a lickins. Since the Oregon Aggies defeated Michigan Aggies their efforts have been all to 0 beating.

Jack Hegarty's Carolina A. and M., which meets Georgetown on Saturday, defeated Gallaudet by 7 to 7, and Gal-laudet players declare the Raleigh team persessed of great strength.

The Maryland Aggies won rather cas-by a 5 to 0 score.

The Maryland Aggies won rather cas-lly from the Washington College team, stepping nearer the State title. The stepping nearer the State title. The stepping nearer the State title. The problet caused the most enthusiastic reters of the Charlottesville eleven through with a 2 to 7 win over Get-tysburg team at Homewood Field.

It was Mahan's perfect forward pass to Harte in the first quarter that started the Tigers on the downward path. With the ball exactly in the center of the field, Captain Eddie made a perfect throw to the speeding Crimson end, who placed the oval on the Tigers 30-yard line. Virginia's prestige was enhanced in a superlative degree yesterday when Vanderbilt was the guest in the stadium that stands as a lasting monument to Lambeth, sire of Virginia's apportive points.

The running of the Walden yesterday was marred by the disqualification of Celandria, the winner, for crossing her field at the head of the stretch. The foul was not apparent to the public generally, and as is always the rule in such cases, there were many cries of disapproval when the numbers were chonsed. Fortunately Celandria was something of a long shot, and the disqualification made Colonel Vennie, who was heavily played, the winner. Foxhall Keene's Pusa in Boots ran a fine race in the stake, and showed something of her true form.

Followers of the racing game are due for a tough time in picking the winners. More distance events are down on the program than usual. On Thanksgiving Day there will be no race less than a mile, which will be somewhat of a nevelty to patrons of the sport of kings. There will be seven races on Saturdays and holidays, starting promptly at 2 p. m.

Special trains on the W., B. & A. will leave the White House Station at 12:20 and 1 p. m., returning immediately after the last race, so that patrons can be back in Washington by $:30 every evening. During the meeting limited trains will stop at Bowle.

Virginia Eleven Takes M'MILLEN TO COACH FOR PIMLICO RACES Top Honors in Winning

Charlottesville Players Accorded Rank Over Southern Teams Following Victory Over Vanderbilt. Donnelly Thinks Georgetown Would Lose by Two Touchdowns.

By THOMAS KIRBY.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Nov. 7.—In the iast man was so clear to the line that calm moments of their afterthought, competent football jurists here today are finding a unanimity of opinion among themselves in their declarations that Virginia has the ranking eleven on the gridirons of the Bouthland for 1915.

With a Georgetown engagement eliminated through irreconcilible differences between the universities, all that remains between new and the culmination of Virginia's campaign is Carolina, at a speed, strength, and "lift" that was a revelation to the visitors from Nashville.

Comparisons between Georgetown and Virginia might appear invideus, the most candie and unbiased disposition of the queetion, that promises to be long mouted, being to quote Ed Donneily, former Trinity player, who umpired yesterday and who acted in the same capacity in the Georgetown-Pordham game. At New York Georgetown-Pordham game. At New York Georgetown was conceded to be at the top of her game, while Virginia, in the opinion of these who have seen her in all her contests, was pever stronger than against Vanderbilt. In the judgment of Donneily, Virginia would finish with a margin of two touchdowns on the Blue and Gray.

If yesterday's game may be taken as a criterion Virginia has made her unprecedented record this autumn not because of any freak of luck or transcending brilliancy of any one player but because she has put forward eleven skillful individuals that have been welded into one of the most finished products that these parts have known in recent years.

Without attempting to disparage in the remotest degree the general excellence of Virginia, it cannot be gainsaid that Vanderbilt was far below the expectations that early reports would seem to justify. Likable Dan McGuigan is classed as a rather shrewd student of the greatest of all intercollegiste athletica. If he is to live up to his reputation he must have observed many an interesting feature yesterday that should make for better and greater Vanderbilt teams of the future. His archaic system of waiting end defense was carried away like October leaves swept off by autumn's early gusts and suffered markedly in comparison with the close, dashing, smashing flank protection of Virginia that was driven into the backfield at the inception of the plays that carried all before them in other contests. Virginia's line was adamant and the few gains recorded by Vanderbilt were netted through short runs from kick formations. These surposedly deceiving formations. These surposedly deceiving formations. These surposedly deceived the fact that the

W. R. McMillen, assistant in the Boxs. T. M. C. A., is the newly appointed track coach at Tech, and has taken hold of his charges for the development of track work for the year. McMillen is a pupil of the late Mike Murphy and of "Pooch" Donovan, of Harvard, and

"Pooch" Donovan, of Harvard, and comes from Melrose, Mass.

Tech track work is expected to pick up immediately, and preparations are under way for a campaign in the indoor meets. The success of the Tech athletes during the last two years under Brailey, Gish, has been good and in obtaining McMillen Tech hopes to follow on tomoro victories.

There are at present some thirty-five athletes working at Tech, and an increased squad is looked for. Tech gives credit in physical training, and work in track is counted in with the regular credits. This wretched weekness was most palpably shown on Mayer's long run for the first touchdown, when no less than seven visitors reached the runner but failed to bring him to earth. While the friendliest of feeling between the players characterized the game, it was flercely played, and in the test of physical condition Virginia again loomed the superior, seldom having a man temporarily disabled, while Vanderbilt many times asked for a cessation of hostilities while one of her men recovered from the juggernaut drives of opponents.

Dorsey Griffith, former Western track atar, gained his numerals at George-town yesterday as lead-off man in the victorious relay against the Sophs. The Freshmen put it all over the Sophs in the relay race, tug-of-war, and football game, winning by 29 to 6.
